Morgan firm, expressed the belief, however, that the explosion was purely an accident caused by a collision between an explosive-laden wagon and another vehicle. The firm had received no threats of any kind, he said, and there was no real reason for the planting of a bomb outside the firm's office.

The noon hour had struck and an endless stream of office workers had just started pouring into the streets from buildings in the neighborhood. Suddenly a cloud of yellowish black smoke and a piercing jet of flame leaped from the street outside the Morgan office.

Then came a deafening blast. A moment later scores of men, women and children were lying prostrate on the ground and the streets were covered with debris from thousands of broken windows and the torn facades of adjacent buildings. Two minutes later the stock and curb exchanges, the financial pulse of the world, had closed. Panic and confusion reigned in the heart of New York's financial district.

Thousands of clerks and stenographers fled in terror from adjoining structures. Scores fainted, fell and were trampled on in the rush. Meanwhile, the noise of the explosion which was heard throughout lower Manhattan and across the river in Brooklyn brought thousands of the curious to the scene.

The few police on duty in the district were unable to cope with the crowds and a hurry call for police reserves was sent to all downtown police stations.

Subsidiary officials, fearing an attempt might be made to rob the building all the windows of which were broken, requested assistance of the military authorities at Governor's Island and a company of soldiers was sent to guard the institution.

Hurry calls were also sent to all hospitals in the downtown section of New York and scores of ambulances were soon speeding through the narrow streets. Dressing stations were established in the lobbies of the buildings nearby, where the less seriously injured were given immediate treatment.

Evidence tending to confirm the theory that the explosion was caused by a bomb or some other infernal machine came from several sources.

Chief Police Inspector Lahey reported late today he had found evidence to justify the conclusion that the explosion was caused by a huge bomb loaded with TNT-trinitro-toluol—reinforced with iron slugs fashioned from window weight bars. Pieces of these slugs were found in several adjacent structures. This type of weight bar, a close inspection by police and department of justice agents disclosed, is not used in any building within a radius of several hundred feet from the scene of the explosion.

Warning that radicals planned a renewal of bombing outrages were sent less than a month ago to all eastern clients of the William J. Burns Detective agency, according to a statement by Mr. Burns, who said he was convinced today's explosion was a premeditated attack and was not accidental.

Mr. Burns, who said he had been engaged by the Morgan firm to make an investigation of the accident, stated that his personal investigation disclosed that a wagon containing a bomb or bombs was left in front of the Morgan building with a timing device so fixed as to cause it to explode precisely at noon. No trace of the driver of the wagon has been found, he said, and added that his opinion the man escaped a few moments before the explosion occurred.

Credited to Bomb.

Fire Chief Kenyon and officers from the bureau of combustibles, also expressed the belief the explosion was caused by a bomb after examining fragments of metal found in the street in front of the Morgan offices. Dr. William F. Doyle, chief of the bureau of combustibles, pointed out that the small hole found in the street near the Morgan offices and the widely scattered scars on the facade of nearby buildings also indicated the blast was caused by a bomb rather than by an explosion of a quantity of dynamite or other explosives.

Five members of the Morgan firm were in the building at the time of the accident. Thomas W. Lamont, Dwight W. Morrow, Elliott C. Bacon and George Whitney were in conference on the second floor on the Broad street side of the Morgan building. They were shaken up by the force of the explosion, but all escaped without injury.

Junius Spencer Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan, head of the firm, who is now abroad, was at his desk on the lower floor when the explosion occurred. It shattered the glass partition of his office, showering him with fragments. He received slight cuts on the hands and arms.

"The explosion threw the conference upstairs into disorder," Mr. Lamont said. "We were jarred by the concussion and rather excited and ran down to the main floor, where the utmost confusion prevailed. There were about fifty employees who were more or less injured and those clerks who had miraculously escaped injury from falling debris were courageously throwing their attention to assisting those who were less fortunate."

"One of our valued employees, William Joyce, was killed. He was the son of Thomas W. Joyce, who has been in our employ thirty years and who was himself badly hurt. All our large windows on the first floor and some on the second floor were blown in. The office will be ready for business tomorrow morning."

There were between 400 to 500 employees in the Morgan building at the time of the accident.

Letter Warned of Explosion.

A letter giving warning of today's explosion was dropped through the mail slot of a door in one of the offices of the French high commission at 10 Broadway, it became known tonight.

This letter, apparently written by a man formerly in the employ of the commission, was torn into small pieces soon after it was read and dropped into a waste basket.

Today, after the explosion, these bits of paper were taken from the basket, pasted together and turned over to the police. The letter, which was addressed to Lieutenant Arnould, who is attached to the commission, began with the words, "Greetings. The writer said he thought he was rendering a service to the French commission by advising Maurice Casanova, minister plenipotentiary, and his assistants of the fact that a catastrophe would occur in Wall Street about 2:30 o'clock. No date was mentioned."

The writer suggested that Lieutenant Arnould advise Minister Casanova to have the offices of the commission closed and unoccupied at 2 o'clock so that the lives of the office staff might be spared. The letter also broadened it became known tonight.

Others of its kind had exploded, however, and the bomb was not such a bomb as was thought to be.

It was an exact reproduction of a day-light air raid, it was said.

The scene after the explosion was as normal as a day of any other day. A number of people were going about their accustomed business. Three automobiles were parked in front of the Morgan building. A car was parked in front of the Morgan building.

A plume of smoke rose from the north side of Wall street, coming from the east. In front of the Morgan building, a car was parked in front of the Morgan building.

At one minute of twelve a sheet of flame flashed up from where the delivery wagon was standing and with the flare of it came a crash as of a thousand thunders that shook the entire lower part of New York. There was no sound and no movement. Shaw, looking on from his window, watched the street of death for at least two minutes before a living person appeared on the scene or any outcry was made. The automobiles which had been driven into the street and killed were blazing beside the curb. The wagon was a mass of twisted metal.

SAVANNAH MOURNING DEATH OF COL. NEVILLE

Savannah, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—Col. Charles Neville, reported here today as seriously injured from the Wall street explosion, and later reported dead in the Broad street hospital, New York, was one of the best known men of Savannah. He was head of the firm of Neville, Melver & Barnes, expert accountants, with offices here and in Washington city and New York. Mrs. Neville was today in Washington when news reached relatives of the injury to the Savannah man. Colonel Neville was related and by marriage connected with several prominent families in Savannah. He was a colonel in the American army and after the war was given a statement to this effect by the department of the government. He was about 60 years of age.

as trumped up for political purposes. My heart is in this fight and I will put forth all effort and make reasonable concession to win it that we may secure membership in the league for America."

Sage Brush and Desert.

The governor's Nevada campaign today comprised a half dozen speeches. He traveled farther, reached fewer voters and saw less scenery than on any day for the two weeks of his western trip.

Through the Nevada sage brush and alkali desert, bounded by high barren, brown mountains, the governor traveled today, delivering addresses on the league of nations, progressivism and reclamation, at Elko, Carlin, Winnemucca, Lovelock and Sparks. All were brief rear platform talks except at Sparks, where he spoke at the high school, and here tonight to a large crowd in a theater after arriving nearly two hours late.

Peace through the league was the burden of the candidate's Nevada prelections. He also emphasized the use that money, which he said could be saved by disarmament under the league, could be put to reclaim western wastes.

Continuing his criticism of Senator Harding, his republican opponent—his alleged nomination by the "senatorial oligarchy" and his alleged veiled attack on the league issue—Governor Cox stated that reports of the senator's address yesterday told of another plan of the republican candidate for world peace. Citing the eight different positions which he said the senator had taken on league questions during the last year, Governor Cox said that the Marlon speech yesterday now became the senator's ninth change.

Rail and Industrial Questions.

Railroad and industrial questions were discussed briefly by the democratic candidate today with several of his audiences, which included railroad employees.

Settlement of strikes without the "bayonet" also was reiterated by the governor and he repeated his view on radicalism, urging its control by "square deal" government.

Governor Cox was accompanied through Nevada by Governor Boyd and Senators Pittman and Henderson, all of whom joined the candidate at Elko.

Western campaign affairs were discussed by the governor with Senator Pittman, in charge of the democratic headquarters at San Francisco. Favorable reports on western conditions were received by the governor.

Besides his address, the governor shook hands with many persons, gathered in a large crowd, including cowboys and cowgirls on ponies, Indians and dust-covered ranchmen, and he rode through the miles through the desert to see the governor.

Less than here early tomorrow morning the governor was to open a campaign of five days in California with a mass address at Sacramento and in the evening in the San Francisco auditorium where he was nominated last July.

ITALIANS CALLED TO SOVIET ARMY

Preparations for Recruiting Going on in Large Cities—Army to Be Like That of Russia.

Rome, September 16.—Preparations for recruiting an Italian soviet army are going on in Milan, Turin, Rome, Naples and other large cities throughout the country, according to the newspaper "Eni," which publishes a statement to this effect by a superior officer of the Italian army. It is said that one of the leading chiefs of the soviet organization is Enrico Malatesta, the anarchist chief.

Signor Vella, a member of the chamber of deputies from Sicily and ranked among the extreme revolutionists in the chamber, denies in an interview with The Tribune any connection with this alleged bolshevik army. Vella enlisted during the war, and refused promotion, and later was court-martialed for disseminating anti-war propaganda. He was convicted and received an additional sentence for contempt of court.

Giolitti Urges Moderation.

Turin, Italy, September 16.—Conciliation and moderation are being urged by Premier Giolitti in his conference with workmen and employers in conferences now in progress here, in the hope that a compromise which will satisfy both sides of Italian metal workers' conflict may be reached. A section of the employers has suggested it might accept the terms of the strike, but the workmen have asked if this intervention will be exercised to the detriment of the interests of the men.

Sudden Chorus of Shrieks.

Suddenly there was a chorus of shrieks and a frantic crowd began pouring out into the street from the nearby office buildings. They were crying and bleeding. Shouting thousands began pouring in from all directions, men, women in the effort to escape the explosion was about to occur.

The police and the ambulances before to appear in numbers sufficient to handle the emergency. Gradually the crowds were driven back and the shambles in Wall street was cleared. The delivery wagon was carrying explosives and that an automobile had run into it. There was the rumor that a high-powered automobile heading east was standing in front of 55 Wall street and that just prior to the explosion three men jumped into it. CARLOAD OF HOGS, BRED IN GEORGIA, BRING BIG PRICE

This is a hog story. The mere fact that a carload of hogs is sold in Atlanta is not of general interest. But when pure-bred swine, each averaging 300 pounds, and selling for 17 cents per pound are marketed here, eyes are opened and the public desires to know the "ways and wherefores." Especially is brought 14 cents per pound over this true when it is added that hogs the best market price in the country. Buho Pyron, a prominent live stock grower of Cartersville, sold the White Provision company of Atlanta, this carload of Bartow hogs, which is attracting much attention. All of the hogs are registered, it is stated, and were sold through the Suttles Commission company.

MUSCOGEE COUNTY STILL REMAINING ON DORSEY'S LIST

Columbus, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—Muscoogee county remains in the Dorsey column. The first count of the vote gave the county to Smith by five votes. That an error in addition was discovered. The committee reassembled, allowed for the error, and declared that Dorsey had carried the county by four votes. The Hoke Smith club then asked for a complete recount, and a county democratic executive committee met today and a letter from Secretary Hiram L. Gardner, of the state executive committee, was read, in which he said: "I do not believe it is possible to order a recount on the sole ground of the small difference in the vote. The Muscoogee Hoke Smith club alleged no specific errors or irregularities in the count, and as its request for recount was based solely on the closeness of the vote the committee voted not to have a recount."

Anti-Saloon League Will Try to Defeat Tom Taggart and Others—Plot Alleged by "Wets."

Washington, September 16.—Declaration was made today by Prohibition Commissioner Kramer that the Anti-Saloon League machinery is inadequate. Coupled with this was a statement by the Anti-Saloon League that "the nation is confronted by a gigantic and vicious conspiracy to discredit and ultimately overthrow prohibition."

Mr. Kramer in making his declaration in an address before the Anti-Saloon League conference here added that in numerous communities prohibition cases were being dragged into federal courts at a rate of 10 to 20 a week. The result, he said, is jammed dockets and delay in the trial of dry law violators.

Notice served on officials. The Anti-Saloon League embodied its conspiracy charges in a resolution which served notice it would attempt removal of public officials derelict in prohibition enforcement. At the same time, officials of the league made public a partial list of candidates for congress whom it will seek to defeat because of their position on prohibition.

Commissioner Kramer frankly told the conference his agency, in addition to being confronted with a shortage of personnel, had within it men who were not "straight." It would have been a "miracle," he added, if there had not been some men who had proved to be unfaithful to the oath, inasmuch as the dry enforcement corps had been built up in about six months.

While the conference gave Mr. Kramer's organization a vote of confidence and a pledge of support, speakers asserted this stand would not "soften" condemnation of officials of whatever rank who did not observe the letter of the law in searching out liquor law violators. The resolution adopted by the conference also called upon congress to adopt "some standard for conduct" for which appointees, such as federal judges, might be removed from office. The present laws make impeachment difficult and impractical, the resolution said, and congress was urged to provide methods by which those who wink at violation of law may be dealt with summarily.

Against Tom Taggart. The league in its campaign for a continued dry majority in congress support Senator Watson, republican, against Thomas Taggart, democrat, in the Indiana senatorial race, and Frank B. Willis, a republican, candidate for senator in Ohio. Included among the present members of the house selected by the league as the object of its attack, the list showed Representative Porter, Pennsylvania, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee. There are no southern candidates on the black list.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the league, declared the league to be "to the point" that every candidate not recorded as favorable to right enforcement would be fought "to the finish."

Mr. Wheeler declared it was imperative to "defeat Taggart and re-elect Watson" in Indiana.

Mr. Wheeler in making the list of candidates to be opposed, told would not know definitely the names of all candidates on its "black and white lists" until all primaries have been held. He explained the league would enter no local fight except where records of the candidates show the prohibition question to be an issue.

Commissioner Kramer in addressing the conference suggested the organization of local committees of "hundred or more" to build up a sentiment for observance of the prohibition law.

TO BE SOLD ABROAD

Washington, September 16.—The American Shipbuilding company has been authorized by the shipping board to sell ten steel steamers of 3,700 deadweight tons each for transfer to foreign registry. This is the first authority for the sale to foreign account of American ships granted by the board under the terms of the new merchant marine act.

The board's announcement today said the American company had been unable to interest steamship companies in this country in the purchase of the craft and consequently had negotiated for their sale abroad. Built on the Great Lakes for the American company's account, the steamers will be transferred to French, British, Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, Belgian, Spanish and Italian registry.

The board said it had been informed that the company would receive about $62,700 each for the ships, or about $171 per deadweight committee of Decatur and the sub-committee, he has been deprived of a hearing on the merits of this county.

Hardwick's Statement. His statement in full follows:

"To the people of Georgia: Final and official returns now make it certain that second primary for governor will be necessary. In the primary of September 27, 1920, I carried 10,000 county unit votes, lacking only four votes of the number necessary to nominate. My nearest opponent, Mr. Walker, carried 9,000 county unit votes. I carried 50 counties with a county unit vote of 14. In the county unit vote I lead Mr. Walker by 16 votes and in popular vote by substantially 8,000 votes.

"In the home county of my opponent, Mr. Walker, there were also gross irregularities at the polls. At the Monroe box the polls were reopened twice after the hour fixed by law for them to close, and after, in fact, they had been closed. I received a substantial plurality in Walton county out side of Monroe.

"These circumstances, coupled with many other more or less suspicious instances, convince me that the count I easily won the nomination in the primary of the 8th, but as the official returns stand, it will be necessary to have a second primary. Under the law and under the rules of the state committee, an appeal of this kind has already been fixed for Wednesday, October 6, 1920.

"I desire to thank my friends everywhere in Georgia for their splendid and loyal support of the principles at issue in this contest, and to assure them of my deep personal appreciation and gratitude for their support. This great fight for the reestablishment of American fundamentals in Georgia is only half won, and it summons every real democrat and every true American in Georgia to the firing line for service from now until the polls close and the votes are counted on October 6. Every friend of the principles for which I stand is urged to be active and vigilant and to do all in his power for the cause in order that we may make the final victory on October 6 certain."

Carlton'sHugs the Arch

We do not believe in superlatives but we know of no shoe which fits up under the arch like the Cantilever Shoe.

This close-fitting instep provides a wonderful, natural support to "tired arches." You may not have a case of weak arches requiring medical attention; but have you not noticed how tired your arches get from long walking or standing?

That is due probably to the shoes you are wearing—for Nature endowed our foot with muscles and ligaments to hold the arch bones in place. Rigid shank shoes (like a plaster cast) have prevented those muscles from exercising, and they are gradually losing strength from disuse.

The nearest approach to going unshod (which is Nature absolute) and at the same time being in good style, is to wear the which flexes as the foot bends and covers the foot snugly everywhere without restraint anywhere. These good-looking shoes, so comfortable and conducive to graceful poise and efficiency, are sold in Atlanta only by

Ten Years Younger Than His Years

Doesn't it make you feel good—cause you to straighten up and feel "chesty"—when someone guesses your age at ten years or so younger than you really are? You look into your mirror, smile with satisfaction and say to yourself: "Well, he didn't make such a bad guess, at that."

The point is: You're no older than your vitality.

If a man is strong, vigorous, mentally alert, fine and fit at 50 he has a better chance of living up to 80 than a man of 30 who is weak and run-down has of living up to 60. While none of us can stay the years nor stop time, we should all make an heroic effort to successfully resist the effects of time by ever keeping our vitality at par.

When you sense a feeling of slowing down of your physical forces—when your stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs show signs of weakness—when you notice a lack of your old time "pep" and "punch"—in other words, when you feel your vitality is on the wane, you should commence at once to restore your energy, strength and endurance by taking

BIG LIABILITIES SHOWN IN REPORT

Statement of Auditors Alleges John Welch's Debts Exceed Assets by Almost a Half Million Dollars.

Athens, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—An excess of approximately $425,000 in liabilities over assets was disclosed in the auditors' report on the financial condition of John Welch, local cotton factor, who last month was said to be in financial difficulties as a result of breaks in the cotton market. The auditors have been at work on his books for several weeks and presented their report today at a meeting of about fifty creditors and attorneys representing creditors held at the Welch warehouse.

The auditors' report showed liabilities of approximately $832,000, represented by notes outstanding on loans and warehouse receipts outstanding for cotton. The assets in cotton and money in the bank and other assets were approximately $400,000.

Committee Appointed.
A committee of ten creditors and their attorneys was appointed to investigate the matter and report to a meeting of the creditors to be held in the Athens city hall next Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. John B. Gamble, attorney, is chairman of the committee.

Mr. Welch is represented by C. W. Crook, who has been acting for him with power of attorney since his difficulties first became known. Judge Stephen C. Upson is attorney for Welch. No legal proceedings had been taken tonight to throw the case into court, and it was said that such action would probably be held in abeyance until the creditors' meeting next Thursday.

Attorney John B. Gamble, who was selected chairman of the committee, tonight explained that the committee was appointed for the purpose of ascertaining Mr. Welch's true financial condition and what can be done toward raising the funds necessary to pay off his indebtedness without recourse to court action.

All creditors, he stated, had pledged themselves to hold things in status until after the meeting Thursday.

It is understood that the family of Mr. Welch will throw their entire resources into the branch if necessary to make good his losses. The committee which was appointed just before the meeting adjourned this evening includes John B. Gamble, attorney, chairman; W. W. Scott, merchant; J. A. Nolan, farmer; R. S. Grebe, cotton factor and banker; J. Warren Smith, banker.

consolidation of the returns and to hear any contests which might be brought, and practically the entire morning was consumed by discussion of the Decatur county case.

Mr. Hardwick appeared at the hearing in person and presented his interest in the case.

Mr. Walker was also an interested spectator in the proceedings.

ing, but his case was presented by Judge Bennett, a prominent Albany attorney.

The afternoon discussion, which opened at 2 o'clock, after the morning adjournment at 12:30 o'clock, was begun by Judge Bennett, who said that although Walker's supporters were confident that there were irregularities in certain counties which had been carried by Hardwick, they were making no contests.

Flynt Asks Questions.
After Mr. Miller's motion to affirm the Decatur committee's action, Mr. Flynt asked him if he thought it to be the best interest of Georgia for managers to allow persons not registered the right to vote, and whether or not the throwing out of the Decatur county vote entirely would not have a salutary effect on Georgia politics.

Mr. Miller replied that he did not believe that properly registered voters should be disfranchised on account of the probability that some votes cast were illegal. Mr. Miller also expressed the belief that the run-over would mean additional votes for Hardwick, explaining at the same time that he (Mr. Miller) was not a Hardwick partisan.

Fernon Barrett, state senator, of Toocoo, in support of the motion, Mr. Barrett argued that if Mr. Hardwick and his friends had presented a strong enough case to warrant any other action than that suggested in Mr. Miller's motion, since they had not started the case, they had not started the case. He said, actually, that illegal votes had been cast in Decatur county, other than support that Mr. Barrett said that he did not believe the subcommittee had jurisdiction to do so. He said, in conclusion, that the committee, even if the subcommittee on rules were functioning as an appellate body, could not do so.

Dean's Position.
H. H. Dean, of Gainesville, in speaking on the motion, said that both sides of the controversy had been willing to admit that illegal votes had been cast. He would have been in favor of throwing the vote of the county out of the returns. But he said, if they do not even allege that the illegal votes were cast for either Walker or Hardwick, Mr. Dean also stated that he did not believe that there were illegal votes cast in Hall county, as had been stated. He said that Hall county was the ground for the claim was probably in the variation between the original registration books and the latest list.

Mr. Flynt then asked Mr. Barrett to take the chair, and he argued that if the managers in Decatur county had allowed illegal votes to be cast, the vote should be thrown out by the subcommittee, since it was the supreme court in primary laws in Georgia, and should do the best thing for the betterment of the state's political situation.

The members of the subcommittee present were Hiram L. Gardner and J. J. Flynt, ex-officio; J. H. Miller, of Dodge county; H. H. Dean, of Gainesville; Fernon Barrett, of Toocoo; Miller S. Bell, of Milledgeville; H. H. Elders, of Tattall county, was absent from the meeting.

and that each ticket voted shall contain the names of the two candidates, to wit: Thomas W. Hardwick and William Starr Bassinger. Each voter shall strike therefrom the name of the candidate for whom he does not wish to vote.

Whereas, there are only two candidates to enter the primary on October 6, 1920, and whereas, the expense of holding said primary over the entire state is such as to tax said candidates far in excess of the amount allowed under the law for said candidates to expend in a primary election, therefore, the democratic executive committee of Georgia, through the subcommittee, respectfully appeals to the various county executive committees and to the friends and supporters of the two candidates for governor interested in said run-over primary that each county provide the necessary means and expenses for the holding of said primary in each respective county, including the printing of tickets, the returns of the election, the consolidation of the vote, and the reporting of same to the secretary of the state democratic executive committee.

Will Provide Expenses.
The friends and supporters of said candidates are respectfully requested to provide in each county for the necessary funds for holding said election, or to furnish qualified volunteers, or both, to hold said primary election in the various counties throughout the state of Georgia on an equal basis.

Be it further resolved, That each candidate shall have representation in each county throughout the state as nearly equal as possible.

Be it further resolved, That out of the funds thus contributed, sum services of the friends of the candidates thus volunteered, or both, the county executive committee, the various county executive committees shall conduct and hold said primary and shall give equal representation to each candidate and shall see that a primary is held at each and every voting precinct under the terms and conditions of the primary laws of the state of Georgia.

Be it further resolved, That if any county fails to receive either contributions of money or volunteers for service as above requested, said county executive committee is requested to notify the secretary of the state democratic executive committee, Hiram L. Gardner, of Toccoa, Ga., of such failure by October 1, 1920.

Be it further resolved, That each of said candidates is hereby assessed the sum of one hundred dollars, which shall be paid to the secretary of the state committee on demand and no further assessment shall be levied on said candidates by any county committee.

Be it further resolved, That the state convention shall be held in Macon Tuesday, October 25, 1920, at 10 a. m. in the city auditorium.

Be it further resolved, That the appointment of all delegates heretofore made by county committees are hereby cancelled and no appointments shall be made until Monday, October 11, 1920.

The delegates from each county shall be named by the candidate for governor carrying the county, and shall be accordingly appointed by the chairman of the county democratic executive committee. In the event no recommendation is made by the candidate carrying the county then the chairman shall appoint the delegates from among the friends and supporters of the successful candidate in his county.

Cooler and More Pleasant Weather Seen for Atlanta

Von Herrmann speaks:

The weather has been accused of being "warm," he said, "but he probably appeared to be communing with Jupiter Pluvius in making things just the least bit uncomfortable. I've really felt that way myself, but if any bonds have been between us, they are broken now, for I expect cooler and more pleasant weather for the next several days."

Such was the enlightening information gained from C. H. von Herrmann, Atlanta's eminent authority on what's what in the weather world Thursday afternoon.

It is no wonder whether Atlanta has received its share of rain this year. Two weeks ago the cotton belt resumed a state of calm, sunny weather. This was broken by showers in Tennessee, which moved to the Atlantic coast and the latest reports show the same conditions are occurring in Alabama, Tennessee and along the Atlantic coast from Charleston to Miami.

This is possibly a forerunner of some wet weather for Atlanta. To late Atlanta has received her allotted quota, that being approximately forty-nine inches, which is a fair average for a year, but this figure up to date has been exceeded by the total amount has reached 52.78 inches. This is an excessive amount.

Temperatures continue to remain high over the cotton states, with a slight decline at a few points and a possibility that greater declines will be reported within the next few days, according to the predictions made for cooler weather.

Atlanta's temperature remains the same, but a change is expected Friday.

The last roses of summer are being despaired of in the northwestern states, and winter's grim elements are beginning to cast their shadows. Sheridan, Wyo., according to latest reports show a light frost, with a low temperature of 26 degrees. This is the first indication of winter's approach.

Major Ralph Dixon Is Stationed Here To Help Recruiting

The officer personnel of the Atlanta army recruiting office was augmented Thursday by the arrival from Camp Devens, Mass., of Major Ralph Dixon to become assistant recruiting officer. Major B. M. Bailey is in command of the district.

Major Dixon is on the retired list. He is a graduate of West Point, class of 1904, and in addition to serving at important posts in the United States, has seen service in the Philippines and in Alaska. He has recently been in charge of the R. O. T. C. at Camp Devens.

Two assistant recruiting officers at the local station were permanently commissioned second lieutenants in orders from Washington Thursday. They were Lieutenant William B. Walters, coast artillery, and Lieutenant Furman Hardy, infantry. Both have been connected with the local office for some time.

FRED WEDEMAYER AGAIN CHOSEN HEAD OF YAARAB'S BAND

At the annual election of officers of Yaarab Temple band, held Tuesday night in the Scottish Rite hall of Masonic temple, Fred Wedemeyer was unanimously chosen to his old position as musical director, he having resigned the position some two years ago.

W. J. Stoddard was re-elected president and drum major, and Walter R. Bush was re-elected secretary and treasurer. Thirteen new members were taken into the million-dollar musical organization, which is known from coast to coast as one of the best bands in the South, and the prospects are bright for the most successful year in the history of the band.

A collision between a street car and a delivery wagon in Burlingame, Cal., knocked the delivery wagon clear into the next town. The collision occurred on the dividing line.

WOMEN URGING SPECIAL SESSION

Governor Dorsey Is Asked by Savannah Committee to Include Suffrage Question in His Call.

The advisability of calling an extraordinary session of the state legislature was again brought before Governor Hugh M. Dorsey Thursday afternoon, when a delegation of prominent women of Savannah waited upon him and asked his opinion on the matter of calling the two houses together to enact laws enabling women to vote in November elections.

The governor, after hearing with interest the reasons advanced by the delegation, did not refuse nor consent to their desire, but intimated that he did not think it proper to put the state to the expense of such a session alone for the purpose of passing laws to allow women to vote. He stated, however, he was considering the advisability of calling the houses together to provide for relief of the serious financial crisis confronting the state educational institutions.

He intimated that if a session was called for this purpose, the question of women voting in the national election in November would also be placed before the legislature. The governor has declared his intention of calling the leaders of both houses together at an early date for a conference to decide whether the extra session will be called, but at the state capital Thursday it was stated the meeting has not yet been arranged.

The committee which appeared before the governor at Savannah, where he went to speak in interest of the "Advertise Georgia" campaign, was composed of Mrs. Malcolm Bell, Mrs. W. W. Derenne, Mrs. Mathew Cunningham, Miss Stella Akin and Mrs. Paschall Strong.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

The sky must have its dark cloud every day, so officials in the comptroller general's office say, and the same is true regarding politics.

Campaigns come and go, so do candidates and state house officials, but they never leave without informing the comptroller general of how much they spent to win or get defeated. Every state house candidate, including the governor, appellate judges, supreme court justices, and those running for the United States senate, must file an account of their campaign expenses with the comptroller general within twenty days after the primary, according to the law.

And the comptroller general is desirous of all nominated candidates and "has been" to take due note of the law. Three more statements were filed Thursday afternoon, S. Gay, McLendon, secretary of state, Judge C. W. Smith, of the court of appeals, and Paul B. Trammell, who ran for railroad commissioner, complying with the rule.

Mr. McLendon reported his entire campaign account at $125. Smith spent $2,796.75, while Mr. Trammell's statement showed he had expended $1,165.00. A statement from a successful candidate for solicitor general of one of the Georgia circuits also received Thursday, but since the state is not interested in financial statements from county candidates, the account was returned with a note that the comptroller general appreciated his desire to obey the law, but in this instance a record of his disbursements was not required.

The prison commission continued its session Thursday until Friday, after hearing a large number of applications for clemency and pardons. The commission expects to complete its work today and will announce its decisions on adjourning.

Judge Alex W. Stephens, of the court of appeals, was called to Macon today to attend the funeral of Miss Anne Kendrick, a relative of his, who died Thursday afternoon.

After hearing arguments on the question of the railroad commission's jurisdiction to act on the heat rate asked by the Georgia Railway and Power company, the commission Thursday afternoon passed the petition of the Oconee River mills, of Milledgeville, to increase its rate 15 per cent, while an order was issued granting the Bowen Telephone company's application for a slight increase in rates at some of its stations at Rochelle and Mts.

The petition of the Oconee River mills asked for an increase of 35 per cent, but the commission declined to grant the full amount.

Shortly after the Georgia Railway and Power company announced its increase of 100 per cent over rates of last year, The Atlanta Georgian company applied for a rule on the commission's authority to regulate rates for steam heat. The city of Atlanta also protested the proposed increase, and James L. Mayson, city attorney, and his assistant, Jesse Woods, represented the city and The Georgian company at the hearing.

Preston Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Power company; Walter T. Colquitt, L. Z. Rosser and J. Prince Webster represented the company. They contended that increased cost of coal and labor made the increase necessary.

Many buildings in the city are dependant upon the railway and power company for heat, it was stated, and have no heating plants of their own. Owing to the lateness of the season, it is contended, plants cannot be installed, so the owners face the probability of having to accept the doubled rates.

The commission still has the matter under consideration and is expected to render its decision at an early date.

CONNOR ELECTED STATE SECURITIES BOARD ORGANIZER

Organization of the State Securities commission was perfected Thursday morning at a meeting in the office of S. G. McLendon, secretary of state, and Tom Connor, formerly state capital reporter of The Constitution, was appointed to the office of chief examiner, after being nominated by H. M. Stanley, commissioner of commerce and labor. The commission was created by the last session of the state legislature, taking the place of the former blue sky law, and is designed to prevent the sale of fraudulent stocks. It is composed of Mr. McLendon, chairman; R. A. Denny, attorney general, and H. M. Stanley.

It was decided by the commission to require all companies or parties desiring to secure permission to sell stock in Georgia to give public notice ten days in advance of applications. This notice must be given in an advertisement three times in one of the Atlanta newspapers and also in a newspaper in the city nearest where the company plans to operate.

Mr. Connor, who has been appointed chief examiner, is a well-known newspaper man of this city, and has been connected with The Constitution for a number of years. He will make a personal examination of the books and property of every concern or party applying for permission to sell stock in this state before passing on applications, which will come up before the commission at its regular meetings every first and third Wednesday of each month.

A Host of Charming Autumn Modes in SILK and WOOL Frocks

Quality is the Dominant Feature of Our Merchandise. And after all, QUALITY is the REAL Economy

The certainty of "Correctness" in every article of apparel we offer is perhaps the most convincing argument we could advance

CREATORS of Costumes for the Fair Women of America have outdone themselves this season and have produced for the selection of Fashion's Devotees Frocks and Dresses that have no equal for beauty of design, for splendor of color and for smartness of line in all the annals of the history of costumes.

From the Tudor of Francis I. period comes the idea of effective paneling to be seen in some of the models presented for Fall. Inspired by a court costume of that period a dainty model in exquisite material has been developed by Lanvin. From the Elizabethan period comes the idea of ruffles applied with the most delightful effectiveness to a beautiful frock for afternoon and dinner wear.

There are, in the Frocks for Street Wear, many of the most unique and beautiful combinations of Duvetyn and Tricotine or Tricofine. The Duvetyn in Arabic and Persian colorings blend with the navy blue of the basic fabric and make of the Frock a poetic and wonderfully attractive costume.

In the frocks and dresses for evening and dinner wear are robes finding their inspiration in the period which marked the close of the Directorate and the beginning of the Greek Empire. There are many wonderful effects obtained through the use of sequins in the robes and evening gowns and many very beautiful materials contribute to the ensemble of each costume.

Taffetas, Georgette, Crepe Meteors, Crepe de Chines, Satins, wool-backed Satins and Monte Carlo Satin are all seen this season. We do not believe a more comprehensive or a more beautiful selection of the very highest class frocks and dresses for every occasion have ever before been brought to the South than the selections we offer for the approval of Southern women this fall season.

We extend a cordial invitation to every one to visit our Apparel Section on the second floor and view the exceptional assemblage of apparel which comes from the studios of master artists of fashion and represents authentically and with satisfying correctness, the trend of the mode for fall.

In suits as well as in frocks and dresses this institution has done its utmost to bring here for your choosing the most exquisite examples of the mode. The suits this fall are wonderful creations, too, taking their colorings from the far places. The browns in particular inspired by such ports as Zanibar and Rio, the blues from the marine blue of ocean waves to the midnight blue of a Southern night, soft, cool, luxuriant. Mandarin and peacock are two of the shades of blue, which take the fancy of the discriminating who can wear them, and henna is a popular color. Suits are embellished with the most delightful wool embroidery and with braidings in the most pleasing designs.

There are skirts, too, for fall, and in the blouse section new arrivals to be worn with them.

And in every instance you feel as you look at these beautiful things, the assurance of correctness, of excellent taste, of smart exclusiveness, and you are satisfied that you are following the dictates of Dame Fashion, the Mood of the Mode for Fall.

Just From Georgia

By FRANK L. STANTON.

The Rosy View.

The future of the country.

Still has a rosy view.

For Molly says she'll keep house.

An' do the votin' too!

That's why I ain't a worryin'.

Even if the world's made new.

Since Molly says she'll keep house.

An' do the votin' too.

An' thousands more, jes' like her.

A-sayin' to us true:

"We'll be the home-housekeepers.

An' do the votin' too!"

Georgia Philosophy.

These nuggets by the way.

From The Dublin Courier-Herald:

A New York baby fell out of a four-story window and landed in a baby carriage, unhurt. That, if you'd ask us, is the stuff presidents are made of.

The reason they call these 'dog days' is doubtless because the dog is the only animal credited with sense enough to keep cool.

The fellow who brags about letting things go into one ear and out the other, usually has nothing in his head to interfere with the unobstructed passage of such

A Get-There Chorus.

When you make your stand

in Hustin' Land

You hear the music

Of the Good Times band:

For the storm don't frown

On Hustin' Town—

It tops high-water.

An' the floods don't drown:

An' here's the true heart.

An' here's the true heart.

An' here's the true heart.

An' here's the true heart.

Army officers from nine states in the southwest will gather in Atlanta in November to attend a two weeks' course of instruction at the Georgia School of Technology, which has been selected above all other schools in the south for this purpose.

Announcement to this effect was made here Thursday by Captain A. Z. Pendleton, Jr., commandant of the Tech reserve officers training corps, who has received instructions from General Morrison, commanding the Fourth army corps area, to prepare for the school.

The selection of Tech as the R. O. T. C. normal school is an unusual honor, and comes as a high tribute to the work of the R. O. T. C. at Tech.

THE UNDENIABLE CHARM OF BEAUTY

And How to Attain It.

Youth of the complexion, a clear, soft, delicately tinted skin, is every day recognized as the undeniable charm of beauty.

To be attractive, to be admired, is the secret desire of every woman, but few know how to attain this accomplishment.

First, it is very necessary to remove all blemishes—tan, sun freckles, dark, sallow blotches, liver spots and pimples, and to give the pink glow of life to the skin tissues. No other preparations on the market today will so quickly give results, make the skin clear, soft and youthful as Black and White Ointment.

No tedious hours of application are required, no long hours of appointments at beauty parlors—just a massage of the creamy ointment before retiring, then rinsed off next morning with Black and White soap. After the use of these two excellent toilet preparations the skin will be smooth, clear and beautiful in every way.

All drug and department stores sell and guarantee Black and White Ointment, 25c per package. (50c size contains three times as much). Black and White Soap, 25c a cake (adv.)

Sole Agents in Atlanta for Minton's China

Minton's China was first made in 1793. In 1849 the Minton factory succeeded in making a hard porcelain, now known as "bone china," named through the fact that Calcined ox bones were used as an ingredient of the body.

This English Bone China is almost as elastic as metal. Consequently, it doesn't easily crack, chip or break. In the long run it is the least expensive china you can buy.

Youthful Legislator-Elect, a Freshman at the University, Is Sheared by Sophomores, Following Long Custom.

Athens, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—F. C. McClure, 21-year-old freshman legislator-elect from Walker county to the general assembly of Georgia, registered at the Hotel Georgia, and yesterday afternoon had his hair cropped by members of the sophomore class in accordance with a custom of ancient origin here that every student be shaven-headed during his first term at the university.

McClure was elected to the lower house of the general assembly without opposition September 8. He is a veteran of two years' service in the world war, having enlisted on his graduation in 1917 with first honors from Locust Grove institute through which he worked his way. The youthful solon took his hair-cutting with good sportsmanship and today was wearing the official freshman cap. He is today the popular idol of his class and one of the best liked men at Georgia. A boom is under way for his election as president of the class when it organizes.

McClure's roommate in Old College dormitory is E. C. Wimberly, of Lyons, leader of the senior class and chairman for Toombs county of the university war memorial fund campaign committee.

TRIAL OF ASSISTANT CHIEF IS POSTPONED

Brunswick, Ga., September 16.—Some two or three hundred Brunswick people were present at a special meeting of city council last night, attracted by the announcement that Assistant Chief of Police Joe Williams, who was suspended some time ago and placed under charges, would be given an open hearing before council. The council chamber was crowded to almost an overflow by interested spectators.

The formal charges against the officer alleged neglect of duty in a number of instances, as well as a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer. Several witnesses were introduced last night and attorneys appeared for both sides. Finally, it was agreed to continue the hearing until Friday night, at which time it is expected that another full house will be present. Friends of the officer state that so far no case whatsoever has been made out against him.

DESCHANEL QUILTS AS FRENCH CHIEF

National Assembly to Convene September 25 to Elect New President. Deschanel Broken in Health.

Rambouillet, France, September 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Paul Deschanel, president of France, presented his resignation from that office today. The president at his residence here gave his letter of resignation and a presidential message to accompany it to Premier Millerand, who will read the document to the senate and chamber of deputies on Tuesday.

Paris, September 16.—The national assembly will convene at Versailles Saturday, September 25, to consider the election of a successor to President Paul Deschanel, according to an official announcement today.

Premier Millerand will receive the president of the senate and the chamber of deputies tomorrow afternoon to discuss the convocation of parliament.

President Deschanel's resolve to resign from office was reached upon the advice of his physician, according to the Echo de Paris. The president reached a decision in the matter several days ago, and since that time has seemed to be much relieved over the prospect of a release from the burdens of public life. He rambled through Rambouillet Park with his wife and children yesterday, the newspaper says, and the fact that he is soon to return to private life seems to have given him renewed hope and confidence.

"The latest chapter in the life of M. Deschanel," says the newspaper, "reads like an act from a Shakespearean drama. A few mornings ago he was found walking towards a lake in the park where his valet was fishing, and it seemed that he was drawn toward the water by some mysterious force. He was led back to his apartments and physicians were hastily summoned, but they found no serious symptoms had made their appearance."

Premier Millerand, after consulting several members of the cabinet this morning and luncheon at Versailles, started in a motor car for Rambouillet to see President Deschanel.

SCARCITY OF HOMES AT THE UNIVERSITY

Six Hundred Students Have Enrolled and Many More Expected.

Athens, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—At the fourth day's registration, 594 students had enrolled, including fifty-five co-eds. Three hundred are expected to register Friday and four hundred Saturday, based on the rate of increase during the first four days. More than four hundred new men have already had their hair clipped, the head shaving custom being one of the means by which the student body perpetuates in itself the spirit of complete democracy that characterizes the state university.

The university housing situation, it is feared, may become more acute than previously thought. A possibility was considered today that the city might not be able to accommodate all applicants for enrollment. The dormitories have been crowded to 50 per cent more than normal capacity since Tuesday.

Women of Middle Age

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female troubles. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best I have ever used. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it."—Mrs. SUSAN C. M'CLEAVE NAMED CHIEF OF STAFF OF FIFTH DIVISION

Colonel Robert McCleave, general staff, was appointed, on Wednesday, chief-of-staff of the Fifth division and assigned to Camp Gordon, reporting for duty with the organization immediately. Colonel McCleave was senior instructor at the first officers' training school at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and afterwards served overseas.

Major Eugene J. Ely has been assigned to Camp Gordon, relieving Lieutenant Echols as division finance officer. Lieutenant Echols goes to Camp Jackson, where he will fill the same position.

Colonel E. H. de Armond, chief-of-staff of the Fourth Corps area, will be held, where addresses will be made.

Officers of the association state they have had so many calls for speakers that it is a physical impossibility to furnish a speaker for every meeting to be held, and it will, therefore, be necessary for the county chairman to select interested parties to make addresses at these cotton meetings, where arrangements have not previously been made.

Two of the largest meetings will be held at the courthouse, Greenville, Ga., Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and at the courthouse, Newnan, Ga., Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Colonel Harvey Jordan, secretary of the national association, and R. W. Matton, president of the Georgia division, will make addresses.

The association states they are receiving word from thousands of members and friends that every pound of cotton will be held off the market until the minimum price named at the Montgomery convention in 1920 is reached, and that the cotton crop of 1920 will not be dumped on the market, as has been the case in previous years. The association is also recommending that 25 percent of the best grades of the 1920 crop be retired from the market until May 1 and July 1, 1921, or longer, for the minimum price named by the association has been reached.

FATHER MISSING, SONS ARE IN NEED OF NEW CLOTHING
Bob's and Bill's father ran away and left the family some time ago. Their mother works at a mattress factory and makes $10 a week. Every one knows that the boys generally wear out and slide into their clothes faster than new ones can be bought. The mother makes every penny go as far as it will, but she is not able to get clothing for the children out of her small wage.

The Associated Charities makes the following statement:
"We would like to get $20 to buy clothing for these two boys, so that we may encourage their mother's ambition for them at school."
"Little Mary, the baby, 4 years old, has been fortunate in the last two weeks because a friend of the Associated Charities has been giving her a quart of rich sweet milk each day, and she is looking better already."
